CALIFORNIA WEATHER REPORT, FOR THE HALF-MONTH OF FEBRUARY, 1996.... ..
Heavy rain has fallen, again this winter. This is causing havoc in the form of landslides, floods, and injury to life and limb. The temperature, here this morning, was a bone-chilling 41 degrees. Dark snow clouds are hovering over the mountains, 50 miles away. As soon as the clouds roll by, I shall be able to see all of the snow that I wish to see, from my kitchen window. More rain is on the way. , so they say.... ..

Details are sketchy, and slow to come in. Mother Nature is reeking her fury on all sections of our birthplaces. May you all keep your toes toasty, warm, and dry.

Hello there, Betty Lou "Brown" Fitch !!!:

Your son John A. tells me that you have some, or much, family tree ancestry recorded on electronic media. He graciously, shared your address with me, so I could initiate correspondence and inquiries with the expert. Hopefully, her shared the e-mail correspondence that we have been having about FITCH ancestry, before this reached you.

As what I hear that you have been doing, my goal is to affix as many branches to my family tree as possible and, thanx to aol, and the modern marvels of word processing capabilities, this further research query is possible. Would you kindly share your BROWN and FITCH 'tree(s) with me? The last name of my oldest friend is, also, BROWN. I always told her that we were sisters.... .. Wouldn't it be marvelous if, in fact, she and I are really related ???? ?? Her name is Patricia Ann Brown, born in Barberton (Akron), Ohio, on October 05, 1934. Dear Karen,

Just a note to let you know that we are back from our long-awaited trip to the east coast. It is a major job just to recoup!! It will take me a while to assimilate all the material that I collected and to send for more that I could not get while there for one reason or another. There was not time to do all the research I would have liked to. You will probably find that when you go to the libraries you can only get a small share done that you had planned. At least it works that way for me. In a couple of them, we spent half a day and in others only about 2 hours. Mainly I wanted to get the names of those I can contact for more information. Most libraries will copy things for you and send them to you at a cost, but you must know just what it is you are looking for. They will not do research for you. You must know the person's name, approximate time, and what fact you want, marriage, death, or whatever. We had some exciting things happen, but so far have found nothing much new to say we can prove anything. That is why I can't send you much at this time, because what I have is just a lot of misc facts that need to be put together.

The libraries we visited were Canton, Ohio (for Warren's mother's side of the family), WilkesBarre, PA, Ridgefield, Conn., Norwalk, Conn., Norwich, Conn. Each had a little to offer, but would have had to spend a lot more time there to accomplish much. Almost every town out there has a local history written by someone that they have reprinted and are for sale. Perhaps that is also true of Steamboat John Fitch and the towns he lived in. I think it was Windsor, Conn., that he grew up in, but you would know that if you read the book about him. Often they are filled with facts about the people of the town, marriages, deaths, births, etc., plus a lot of good stories! The one that I really wanted was out of print but have a couple leads where I might get one. It was the history of Norwalk, Conn.

The most exciting thing that happened to us was that while we were in WilkesBarre, we were looking for an old Fitch Cemetary and a Roberts Cemetary near Falls, Pa. That was all the information we had about it so we started out and got lost as we usually did a couple times a day. We didn't know who to ask so finally made a stop at a church and what we thought might be the parsonage, but it was a house owned by a truck driver and so we talked to him. Yes, he knew where the old Fitch cemetary was and tried to tell us. It all sounded very complicated to a couple "get losters" and so he said there was a man, an elderly man, who knew all about all the history of this place, and so sent us to see him. He was a goldmine of facts and he said he would take us to a lady by the name of Vera Fitch Davis. They called to see if she was at home and she was so he led us there. She happened to have 3 scrapbooks on the Fitch family that she came from and it was the same as ours except that we were from Nathaniel who came to Indiana and she was from another brother that stayed there in Pennsylvania. She let me copy a few of her pages that leads back to Thomas and not to Rev. James. So then she showed us where the cemetary was and the old Fitch homestead, which is now a sandpit!!! But the cemetaries are both there and the Roberts one is in good shape and the Fitch stones have been moved from the old homestead so they would not be damaged by the big machinery and are now next to the Roberts cemetary so we got to see and photograph them all in one spot. So we found the stones of some of the old relatives and got to look over the old homestead, which is now piles of sand, but could imagine what it must have looked like many years ago. The Susquehanna River is right there and there is a waterfall giving the place the name of Falls. Some of the oldtimers called it Buttermilk Falls. We really never expected to run into another member of the family and it was like it was all planned the way it happened. And the weather had been raining, but this day was sunny and nice.

Vera Fitch Davis has some pages from another Fitch that has done some reaearch. She got it a few years ago and is not sure if the gentlemen is still living or not.. he is from Florida and one of the pages I copied is his page of sources of information and also the only one he had on Steamboat John. Apparently he doesn't know much about that side of the family. I am sending both those pages to you. The source page may be of help to you. I find his pages vary on the ancestors of Michael G. Fitch even more than mine did. I was thinking it might be wise for you to hold off on your family run-downs until you get more facts as each source varies some. However, I am not a computer user so don't know, and maybe it is simpler to do it all on computer. After 20 some years I am still finding out new facts (or sometimes fictions) that change the story somewhat and sometimes quite a bit. For instance, right now, we have two sources of the beginning of the family, both Thomas Fitch and Rev. James Fitch, here in America. Same family in England, of course. It just depends on whose research you are looking at. Even some of the old books have flawed facts as handwriting was difficult to decipher and there were probably families out there that wanted to adjust the facts for one reason or another. Guess that is the fun of it all!! And we may never know for sure!! And if the old facts are wrong, they can be repeated over and over. I am not as yet willing to send you the new "genealogy" for our line as I have all this information to go through, and possibly it will not tell me anything I didn't already know.

I found nothing more on Steamboat John while in the East, but of course did not go to his towns and homes. But we did have a good time going to Plimoth Plantation and to Old Sturbridge Village and to Lexington and Concord and out on Cape Cod, so we did a lot of fun things besides go to libraries!!

Though Vera Fitch Davis has 3 books on the Fitches, they are only about her local family and she doesn't really know where they came from past her grandfather, so her information would not mean anything to you. I am going to write this man in Florida and see if he has other pages relating to more Fitch families, and if so, how much they would cost, but from what I saw, it was only on the Thomas family or at least most of it was.

I did receive your last packet of information, but have not had time to really go through it as yet. There has been laundry, yard work, grocery shopping, and much sorting of "stuff". But I will find time before long. I probably copied (actually my husband did) over 100 pages of things from books in the libraries to go through so I am on information overload at the present time, plus several books that I bought.

About Martha's old picture that she was not sure what to do with .. whatever she does, she must not pitch it out. There will be someone in the family that will want to hang it on their wall, I am sure. If not today, maybe the next generation. I have charcoal photos of Warren's mother's grandparents. And they are hanging in our bedroom in some old-fashioned frames. I think the story how I got them is rather interesting. Someone in the family was having an auction and they must have cleaned out the attic. I knew there would be some family antiques and so I took Warren's mom and we went to the auction. I spotted a yarn reel and a big copper applebutter kettle and stirrer that I wanted and so I spent all the money I had on them. Actually I spent more than I had, but did have the checkbook with me. So a little later on two pictures of the grandparents came up for sale and I was aghast that the family would put those old people up for sale. At least they could have taken out the portraits and just sold the frames. Well I bid those pictures up but finally gave up and they went to another lady. She was pretty upset with me for bidding her up to more than she wanted to pay. When I ask if she was a member of the family, she said "no", but she wanted those frames. So I asked if she would sell me the portraits out of the frames. She refused, but finally when I said I would pay her nearly what she paid for the frames, she said OK. So I paid dearly for them and brought them home and framed them myself in some old frames I already had.

A couple of the Fitch Family portraits were given to the local historical museum, but they have never appeared on any wall and if you want to see them, you have to ask and they will take you to the storage area, maybe, and show them to you. So I am not sure that is a good idea as they would have been better enjoyed if someone in the family owned them. However, there were other copies of these portraits, so we do have them. Not our personal family, but they are still in the family and most of us have had smaller copies made off them. So if she has to wrap the portrait up in acid-free paper and put it in a chest or box somewhere, dry and cool, it should be saved. There will be someone along the line that will treasure it.

Will keep y ou up to date on anything new I find after I can put it in its proper place. But as for now, back to work....

Hi Karen,

I never thought I would be writing back so soon but after your big packet you sent me, I just had to say "Congratulations!". It is hard to believe that you found your "roots" in so short a time. And it looks like we can forget about "Steamboat John", doesn't it.

Actually the line in your genealogy goes back to the very one that we are researching for Warren's roots, back to Thomas. While in the East we did find more information on the Thomas family and so I have been going through it. So ours would be the same down through John II and then you go to Mathew and we go on to John III. That is if we indeed truly go back to Thomas. I have not found the proof either way as yet so want nothing changed, but the one for Thomas seems more plausible than the one for Rev. James does! I will keep seeking for that one piece of evidence that will turn us one direction or another. In the meantime, we had a ball in following Rev. James around so will claim him as "part of the family" either way it goes. After all the least he could be would be some kind of uncle!

I loved your papers and your family genealogy. In reading it, I found it was very much like what I have so whoever did it, must have researched the same places. In looking through what I received from this gentleman in Florida, I find that in the family of Michael Gibson Fitch, there are a lot of errors on one side or the other.

You may want to alert him to the differences I find and which I found in several places and books. The references I will be using are "Marriages in Connecticut" a book I found in our own library, and the sheets from the gentleman in Florida, and also a book that I copied pages from in Norwalk. It is a book called "Old Houses in Norwalk" I think. Somehow, I did not get the book name on any of my pages, but this person is giving genealogy of the Fitch family in Norwalk and though I didn't find a lot, it was this same family that Michael is in that is in her book so I will type out what I can find and you can contact him about it.

On your page 10 where you have his family rundown we find #9 James Fitch. I would correct that to #10 Thomas III Fitch.

The family of Thomas I and his wife Ann Stacie is ...
Mary, Thomas II, John I, Ann and Sarah

Then the family of Thomas II and Ruth Clark ...
Sarah, Mary, Samuel who died at 2 yrs 6 mo, and Thomas III
Thomas II died in 1684 and left his widow with probably the three older ones as Samuel would probably be dead at the time.
At that time Sarah would have been 21, Mary 16, and Thomas III would have been about 19 as his birth dates are (1665 to 1731)
Note that is the same dates your account has for #9 James

So here I believe we go into error. Your "James" is really Thomas

III and he would be in the 10th generation as he is a child of Thomas II.

Then in the next generation down Elijah is really James and it was James that married Mary Haynes Buckingham, not Elijah.

Then what is marked as Stephen Fitch is really Elijah and he is the one who married Phebe Smith.

Then Abijah should be Stephen who married Hannah Betts 9-2-1778

If this doesn't make sense try it this way ...

Thomas and Ann Stacie
Thomas II and Ruth Clark
Thomas III and Sarah St. John Hill
James and Mary Haynes Buckingham
Elijah and Phebe Smith
Stephen and Hannah Betts

OK back up to Thomas III and these are his children:
Hon. Samuel
James 1702 -1790
Elizabeth
Governor Thomas Fitch of Connecticut.

So James was the brother of the governor.

The children of James I are
James II who married Ann Hanford
Elijah who married Phebe Smith
Haynes 1735-1815

The children of Elijah and Phebe Smith
1753 Phebe
1755 Hannah
1757 Stephen who married Hannah Betts at Norwalk 1778
1759 Holly
1762 Elizabeth
1764 William
1766 Lydia
Buckingham
1771 Lydia
1773 Elijah, Jr. who married Mary Olmstead and had Lydia, Sarah, Maria, Amayrilla

The children of Stephen and Hannah Betts
Phoebe who married a Newsom or Newson
Abijah 1799

Then Abijah was the father of Nelson Fitch of Auburn, New York

That is all I have except for a paragraph that might be of interest to you or Michael if you haven't seen it before. It is from this same book about the houses of Norwalk.

"Come" said Hannah Betts to her husband Stephen Fitch, "I am tired of rye bread, let us go west where we can raise wheat", and "west" the two went. Stephen died July 26, 1829. He survived his wife by a score of years, she having died March 28, 1809 (18-9 as the Betts Bible represents it). They had a daughter Phoebe born April 26, 1803, died, Jan. 20, 1886, who married a Newson, and a son Abijah, born Jan. 1799, who was the father of Nelson Fitch, born in Auburn, New York, Sept 1824. Nelson Fitch was the father of the present Mrs. Elmore W. Ross of Springfield, Ohio.

Elijah Fitch, Jr., born 1773, son of Elijah and Phebe Smith married, May 30, 1793, Mary Olmstead, born April 2, 1774, and had
Lydia, born Dec. 20, 1793, died Nov. 10, 1801
Sarah, born Aug. 2, 1795, married first Daniel Smith, and second, Daniel Dunbar
Maria, born Qpril 8, 1797, died July 6, 1804
Amarylla T., born Nov. 16, 1798 and married Abraham Spaulding

Elijah Fitch's children were all daughters, 2 of which died young. Elijah died Jan. 4, 1841 and his wife, Mary Olmstead, May 22, 1852, and they removed from Norwalk and their decendants are found elsewhere.

I thought that was an interesting paragraph or two.

So, to summarize, I have ...

Thomas I and Ann Stacie
Thomas II and Ruth Clark
Thomas III and Sarah St. John Hill
James and Mary Haynes Buckingham
Elijah and Phebe Smith
Stephen and Hannah Betts
Abijah
Nelson

Nelson may not be in the direct line of Michael Gibson Fitch but I put that down because I see there is the name Nelson there in your account. So it might be wise for him to check his facts as I used three different accounts to compile this and they all agree.

Well, forgive my bum typing as my correcting ribbon ran out and so naturally I started making all sorts of errors in my typing! I won't write any more now as I just got a phone call and we are having company tonight and I had better run the sweeper!!

Dear Miss Fitch:

Thank you for your letter of April 17th. You probably received one of the original order blanks in 1928 for the Fitch History in four volumes at $80.00. Instead of publishing 4 volumes, we published two large De Luxe volumes with hundreds of pictures, charts and documents, the complete pedigree of Fitch in England etc. This regular price of this complete two volume Fitch History has been $40.00, but in view of the fact that I desire to have as many sets as possible in the hands of Fitch descendants in order to promote interest in our forthcoming 150th Anniversary Celebration of the invention of the steamboat in 1785 by Lieut. John Fitch, I will make you a special offer of a complete De Luxe set for $25.00 which is a reduction of $15.00. As there are only a very limited number of these books in existence they will increase in value every year. You will be buying exactly the same set that the Library of Congress, Washington, D.C. and other wealthy Fitches have and for which they paid $40.00 The frontispiece ~~hundreds of other~~ illustrations of Volume I is ~~the~~ Fitch coat of arms in [illegible] colors. This Special offer is for NOW so please send me your Money Order or check by return mail.

Sincerely yours,

Mr. Edward Fitch,
Hamilton College,
Clinton, New York,

My dear Mr. Fitch: Your letter of inquirycame nearly two weeks ago; I'm sorry to have delayed writing; I've been trying to find some details of the lineage of Nathaniel Fitch, -- particularly Seymour Fitch and Elizabeth Hoyt of New Canaan, Connecticut, whom you mentioned as the special object of your search. I seem to have failed.

Perhaps you have the two volumes of the History of the Fitch Family compiled by Roscoe Conkling Fitch of Detroit, published in 1930. I was told that these volumes were in the city library at Walton, N. Y. The original plan (according to letters sent by the compiler while the volumes were in preparation) was for five volumes for $40. I did not engage the work -- couldn't afford it. A few years ago when a letter offered the published volumes for $25. my brother and I combined to purchase. However, these two volumes do not go very far toward the history of our immediate family.

The manuscript genealogy which my niece, Vera Aileen Fitch permitted you to copy, was compiled by Theodore Fitch, a lawyer of Yonkers, N. Y. I was told by a cousin thru whom I secured it, -- Miss Mary A. Fitch, of Omaha, Nebraska. Her father, Charles Fitch, was a cousin of my father, Simeon Fitch. Of Theodore Fitch, Vol. I, ~~p~~. p. 185 of the History says: (in part) son of Rev. Silas Fitch, was born Franklin, N. Y. 1844; A. B. Yale 1864; practiced law Yonkers 1867--84 and N. Y. City 1884-1917; health failing, retired from practice 1917, removed to Wooster, Ohio where he died 1923. Whether this manuscript was "based on family records or on printed authorities" I do not know.

In this same Vol. I, pp.117-118, I find "The children of John Fitch I and Rebecca(Lindall) Fitch were:
(1) John Fitch II (our family)
(2) Rebecca Fitch
(3) Nathaniel Fitch, born Nov. 6, 1682, at Norwalk, Conn. Married -----; had a son, Lindall Fitch, who married Mary Bartlett, and had a son Seymour Fitch, who served in the Revolution.
(4) Mary Fitch. Married 1711 Ebenezer Gregory,"etc.

I have not been able to find further record of Seymour Fitch. The index gives no other reference to Seymour Fitch, and none to Elizabeth Hoyt.

Vol. 2, p. 190, says John G. Fitch was the compiler of "Genealogy of the Fitch Family in North America" published at Olmsted, Ohio in 1886. I have never seen it.

Vol. 1, p. 185, says Silas Hedding Fitch (1855-1929, son of Rev. Silas Fitch) was co-author with Dr. William Edward Fitch of a genealogy of the Fitch Family, not published.

Dr. William Edward Fitch born 1867 North Carolina. The last address given (1929) is Bedford Spring Hotel, Bedford, Pa.

In July, 1931, I was in Franklin, N. Y. for a few daysand was with a distant cousin, Mrs. Edson C. Stewart. (Mrs. Stewart's name, Flora D., daughter of Almiron H., son of Sophronia Fitch and Horace A. Mann, you will find in your manuscript genealogy.) Mr. Stewart, a banker in Franklin, had business in Walton one day, and Mrs. Stewart and I went too, spending our time with the glorious mountain laurel on the hills beyond Walton, in the Walton library, seeing the town, etc. Seeing the store with the name Fitch, we went in to inquire "which Fitch?" We met two fine friendly men who said they were from Nathaniel Fitch. Doubtless they were of your family.

I recall that in speaking of this Roscoe Conkling Fitch History, they said "I think the ones that paid the most money got the biggest write-ups" -- which would seem to be the truth.

I hope this has not been unduly detailed -- that some part of it may be of use to you.

Sincerely yours,

Dear Aunt Mary:

You no doubt will be surprised to get a tetter from me but I have run into a land title that might possibly be of interest to the heirs of Samuel S. Fitch.

I as you know have practically no record of the genealogy of the Fitch family, however a search of my childhood memories connects me in a faint way with the name Samuel Fitch, and I would like to ask you for the names of your grandfather and grandmother on your Father's side and their State of residence, as well as a short Genealogy of the family.

I have for the past 35 years seen quite a portion of the United States, as I have been connected with the development of the Oil & Gas industry which takes one at all times to sections in which their is activities in connection with such operations.

With kindest regards, I am

VOL. IV. Payson, Illinois, April 1894. NO. 6.

"The Images Ye Have Made of Me."

Said Christ our Lord, "I will go and see
How the men, My brothers, believe in Me."
He passed not again through the gate of birth,
But made himself known to the children of earth.

Then said the chief priests, and rulers and kings,
"Behold, now, the giver of all good things;
Go to, let us welcome with pomp and state
Him who alone is mighty and great."

With carpets of gold the ground they spread
Wherever the son of man should tread,
And in palace-chambers lofty and rare
They lodged Him, and served Him with kingly fare.

Great organs surged through arches dim
Their jubilant floods in praise of Him;
And in church, and palace, and judgment-hall
He saw his image over all.

But still, wherever His steps they led,
The Lord in sorrow bent down His head,
And from under heavy foundation stones
The Son of Mary heard bitter groans.

A Dream not All a Dream.

I READ of a boy who had a remarkable dream. He thought that the richest man in town came to him and said: "I am tired of house and grounds; come take care of them and I will give them to you." Then came an honored judge and said: "I want you to take my place; I am weary of being in court day after day; I will give you my seat on the bench if you will do my work." Then the doctor proposed that he take his extensive practice and let him rest, and so on. At last up shambled old Tommy and said: "I am wanted to fill a drunkard's grave; I have come to see if you will take my place in these saloons and on these streets."

This is a dream that is not all a dream. For every boy in this land today who lives to grow up, some position is waiting, as surely as if the rich man, judge, doctor, or drunkard stood ready to hand over his place at once. Which will you choose, boys? There are pulpits to be filled by God-fearing ministers, and thousands of other honorable places; but there are also prison cells and drunkard's graves. Which do you choose?

The Laborers are Few.

Text:—"But the laborers are few."—Matt. 9:37.

The theme of our sermonette is, as you see, "The laborers are few," and the truths deduced and enforced are few and important. They are these:—

I. ALL CHRISTIANS ARE NOT LABORERS. Some are careless or unwilling.

II. ALL WILLING TO WORK ARE NOT QUALIFIED. "If any man lack wisdom, let him ask of God." Tarry ye at Jerusalem until ye be endued with power from on high," and then "Study to show thyself approved unto God, a workman that needeth not be ashamed.

III. THE LORD REQUIRES OF LABORERS THOSE THINGS WHICH BUT FEW POSSESS.

1. Heartfelt piety before God.
2. Willingness to sacrifice self.
3. Compassion for souls:
4. Power with God in prayer.
5. Dependence on the Holy Spirit.
6. Strong faith.

Emerson says; "Do not hang a dis-[illegible] picture on your wall, and do not fuse to run in his premises after such faultless plumbing. "Can no one tell me what I have neglected?" reiterated the good man, looking over the flock of wondering faces bowed down by the weight of the problem. "I know" squeaked a little five-year old. "You don't pay up."—The Living Church.

Our What Not.

God is equal to all our needs.

Prayer is the right arm of evangelism.

The more we give of self to God, the more we get of himself to us.

Be the best possible Christian; be not content with mediocrity; aim high.

Be true and tender in sentiment, pure and reverent in feeling, and hearty and faithful in duty.

"There was never miracle wrought by God," says Bacon, "to convert an atheist because the light of nature might have led him to confess a God."

It is necessary that the Christian Church be militant. The individual Christian cannot attain the inheritance or spiritual perfection without conflict. And the Church cannot take its place or fulfill its divinely appointed mission without doing vigorous battle.

Quarterly meeting Sunday and Monday, April 29 and 30.

Bro. Wm. Harris has united with the Epworth League.

Chidren's Day the second Sunday in June. "Old Saints Day," June 3.

The Epworth League at Fall Creek is growing in interest and numbers as well.

Sister Jane Dingee entertained a company of guests at her residence one evening recently.

Rev. J. W. Sinnock, after a few days' visit among relatives here, returned to Quincy.

The presiding elder, Dr. Reed, lectures on temperance at Barry, Monday evening, April 16.

Sister Nellie Cook is now spending two days out of the week at Chaddock taking music lessons.

Bro. Frank Morris talks to the people at Fall Creek Methodist Church Sunday, April 15, at 3:00 P. M.

Messrs. Geo. and Wm. Sinnock of Quincy, visited their parents here on a recent Sunday, and attended our church.

Bro. McDermond, by the action of the late Missouri Conference, removes from Hannibal to Winston, Mo., in the Cameron district.

Prof. A. M. Stocking, of Chaddock, was calling on members of our congregation last week in the interest of the institution. Last Sunday he preached at Plainville.

The next monthly Union Sunday School Convention will be held in the Christian Church, with—"Dependence upon God in our Sunday School work," as the subject of the discussion.

The 'Thank Offering' of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society will be held in the M. E. Church Payson, Sunday April 29, at 11:00 A. M. An excellent program, consisting of singing, recitations, short talks, etc., is being prepared, and a pleasant and profitable occasion is expected. Also, the Society will give "a quilting" at the home of sister Wright, Thursday April 19, to which all the members are expected to come and bring their dinners. For the benefit of the Society the gentlemen are cordially invited to come and partake of the "dinner" by the payment of 20 cents for same.—Ada Long, Sec.

Dr. Reed, the presiding elder, in the late Central Advocate, writes:—

Nearly one thousand conversions have been reported since conference. In many of the charges the attendance at the public service has largely increased. Classes for special Bible study are being organized. A two weeks' missionary campaign was recently made. Dr. Thomas Craven, the returned missionary from India, rendered very efficient service. During the two weeks he made thirty-five addresses. The district will meet its apportionment and the preachers will endeavor to go beyond. I can most heartily recommend Dr. Craven as a campaigner.

Easter was observed as recommended by our church as Children's Missionary-Day. A suitable program was rendered in which among others were the following:—

Opening Address, "The Conversion of the World, Dora Baker; Recitation, The Little Missionary, Iva Collins; Recitation, Two Pennies for Missions, Lewis Grubb; Appropriations for 1894, Dollie Kapp; Blackboard Lesson, Paul Lehman; Recitation, As I have Loved You, George Cosgrove; Recitation, Breathe Forth a Prayer, John Chapman; Essay Mrs. G. G. Gabriel.

but the shades of a moral conflagration. Barry thorouhly believes in "the dance." Charity balls, select(?) dances, masquerades,—all seem to enter the creed of the "elite" of Barry society. The dance craze even took possesion of the "school board," and became a part of the unwritten program of the last commencement. "Education!"—but it is a perverted education, one that lightly effects the head, ignores the heart, and looks rather to the culture of the "toe-fantastic."

Sowing habits and reaping destinies, Barry of late has run almost the whole gamut of crimes and immoralities. At this juncture, is it not wisdom to study the true relation of cause and effect? Is it not true of municipalaities as well as of individuals that "whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap?" No corporation, individual, or board of control, can afford to foster the saloon, the theater, the gambling dens, the dance, and kindred institutions, that jeopardize the innocent and the unwary and bring in their train material, mental, and moral disaster.

In Memoriam.

I have fought a good fight, I have finished my course I have kept the faith.

Simeon Fitch was born in Franklin, Delaware Co., New York, Dec. 2, 1818.

His youth and early manhood were passed in his native county. Then with the sirit of enterprise which characterized his after years, he turned his steps toward the, then, far West.

When 24 years of age he located on a farm about four miles from Barry, Ill.

In 1846 he married Lucinda A. Piper, whom death claimed in a few years. In 1854 he married Miss Eliza Kerr, who with five children survives him. Three were on the other shore to greet him, one a precious daughter, having gone before only four weeks.

Early in life Mr. Fitch chose the teacher's vocation, in which he was remarkably successful, both in his native state and in that of his adoption. He possessed a nature that dared, on all questions, to accept and defend the right. For years he stood almost alone, amid derision and persecution, the staunch advocate of the abolition of negro slavery.

Again the prohibition of rum and tobacco was most earnestly advocated the Central Christian Advocate have been sent for, but we are unable to promise them at any definite time. They may arrive shortly and then they may not come for a month or more.

By request we publish in this issue, the obituary of the late Simeon Fitch, Barry. The bereaved family has the assurance of our deepest sympathy in their double sorrow, the oldest daughter having died so short a time before the father.

Our 3rd Quarterly meeting will be Sunday and Monday April 29 and 30, at the M. E. church, Payson. The Elder will be present and preach Sunday evening at 7:30 and also Monday at 2:00 and 7:30 P. M. The Quarterly conference will convene at 3:00 P.M., Monday atwhich all the officiary are expected to bepresent.

As a result of the revival meeting some twenty-five or thirty professed conversion, twenty-four of which united with the Methodist church. The meeting was an excellent one, but necessarily short by reason of the approaching conference which required Bro. McDermond's presence. Bro. McDermond has had some very successful revivals in this part of West Jacksonville district this winter.

The Commencement of the Payson High School will take place on the evening of May 10, in the Methodist church. A class of seven is expected to graduate. Larger classes have probably gone out before them, but none in rank of intelligence and ability have averaged better than the class of '94. Great credit is due to the efficiency of the principal, Prof. N. J. Hinton, who has so successfully superintended the school for four years.

The baccalaureate sermon will be preached Sunday evening, May 6.

At the conclusion of the program, reports of the Little Missionaries, who did remarkably well, were called, and the collection amounted to about $14.00.

The disciplne of our church provides that "in every congregation let due attention be given to the cultivation of sacred music" in compliance with this provision, the pastor is inaugurating a "chorus choir," with Bro. Emmor Forgy as the leader. Ten members have already signed the article of agreement with others yet to join. They who enter the service are required to meet every week for practice, and also to be present every Sunday morning and evening at church services, and on such other occasions as may require their presence. As singing is a part of divine worship in which all ought to unite, your possession of a "Hymnal" becomes a necessity. Information as to prices and style of "Hymnal" may be had by calling on the pastor.

A pleasant company of friends and neighbors gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Martz, near Fall Creek, on the evening of April 4, to witness the marriage of Miss Mary Stombaugh with Mr. Jesse Feil, both parties well known in the vicinity of Fall Creek. The bridal pair were attended by Mr. Henry Seehorn and Miss Emma Murphy, and the ceremony that made "twain one flesh" was pronounced by Rev. C. F. Tobey, Payson. Following the ceremony and congratulations the company was served with a delectable supper was prepared by the hostess in honor of the bride. The bride and groom were the recipients of some useful presents, and are assnred of the best wishes of their many friends.

And Barry had a $200,000—dance! They call it "a fire," but in all reality it was

Intelligent and brave, as teacher, farmer, editor, he lived his life among us, his moral character unsullied and his integrity unquestioned.

Death had no terrors for him and March 6th at midnight, he sank to sleep with the blessed assurance of an happy awakening.

To-day it has three lodges of Masonry, three of Odd Fellows, one of Ancient Order of United Workmen, Modern Woodmen of America, Court of Honor, Mutual Protective League, Grand Army of the Republic, Women's Relief Corps, Fraternal Army of America and Loyal Americans, and all with large membership and apparently flourishing.

The newspaper history of Barry dates back many years. The first paper was a small sheet with an office in the second story of the old Wendorff building. Next the Barry Enterprise, George W. Smith publisher, appeared in 1857, but soon suspended. It was followed by the Weekly Dispatch, by Shaffner & Goldsmith, which also retired after a short existence. L. L. Burke started the Barry Observer about 1869, but it lasted less than a year. In 1871 J. H. Cobb established the Barry Weekly Adage, which was bought by S. E. Colegrove in 1878; then by Cobb & Watson, and then for twenty years was conducted by W. W. Watson. Since 1898 A. E. Hess has been the publisher.

The Unicorn Greenback was started in 1877 by Simeon Fitch and lived ten years. W. T. Lakin published the Sun for a few months in 1889, and G. G. Curnut published the Press for three months that same year. The Breeze, started in 1895, is now published by G. E. Davison.

The electric light system was installed in 1893. It is of the incandescent style, a light being placed at each street intersection.

Banking began here by the organization of the Exchange Bank of Barry in 1872. It was a private bank and the firm was known as C. & S. Davis & Angle, Eugene Smith cashier. It is still under Mr. Smith's management and the firm is now known as Smith, Crandall & Co. The First National bank was organized in 1901, with T. A. Retallic president and O. Williamson cashier.

Banking began here by the o[illegible]-zotion of the Exchange Bank of Barry in 1872. It was a private bank and the firm was known as C. & S. Davis & Angle, Eugene Smith cashier. It is still under Mr. Smith's management and the firm is now known as Smith, Crandall & Co. The First National bank was organized in 1901, with T. A. Retallic president and O. Williamson cashier.

The Barry Public Library and Reading Room was founded in 1876 as a private corporation, and in 1884 was donated to the city. A new and handsome structure is now building at the southwest corner of the park to accommodate the library. It will be a handsome edifice and an ornament to the city. Mrs. B. D. Brown at her death left the funds to pay for the property.

The first Fourth of July celebration in Barry took place in 1838, when a liberty pole ninety feet high was raised in the park. The celebration was in the form of a barbecue. A pit was dug in the park in which a rude oven was made and a beef roasted. Tables 100 feet long (50 feet each side of the pole) were built, which were covered with slabs and brush for shade. There were no trees there then. Probably 200 or 300 persons stood and partook of the meal. Very few chairs were used. The forenoon was devoted to games, foot races and visiting, and after dinner speaking took place in a dwelling Mr. Peabody was building and which was partially finished. This dwelling was located on the lot on which W. F. White's dwelling is located. Among the speakers were Dr. A. C. Baker, Wm. A. Grimshaw and Col. Wm. Ross. There was no music. A large crowd for that early day was present and the event was a most notable one.

The first animal show or circus that visited Barry was the VanAmburg wagon show, which exhibited in the public park in 1852 or 1853. In those days the shows stopped at the edge of town and formed for their parade, instead of the modern style, and on the occasion alluded to they came in from the east. A witness of the parade avers that fully five thousand people

One of the features of the show was the elephant named Hannibal, which so long attracted public attention in after years. Most of the leading shows have visited Barry since that date.

Twice in her history Barry made efforts to secure the county seat of Pike county. In 1842 or 1844 a proposition was made to divide the county, making our city the capital of the west half of the county. At that time Hon. Wm. Blair was a member of the house of representatives and he introduced the bill. A period of excitement followed. Petitions and remonstrances poured in on members of the legislature, and the bill was finally beaten. The effort was renewed in 1846, but again suffered de-

The following are some of the teachers of years ago in Barry and vicinity: Rev. Wm. Blair, Alma Jones, Mr. Mason, Martha Ferris, L. N. Ferris, Wm. Thompson, Miss Tarbell, Mary Quarles, Miss Swetland, Jon Watson, Jon Shastid, C. E. Bunce, Joseph Gill, Miss Litterbrand (Mrs. Sewall), Cina Babcock (Mrs. Calvin Davis), Samantha Jones (Mrs. J. H. Mallery), Synthia T. Spink (Mrs. Joseph Greene), W. T. Mitchell, Antoinette Brown, Kate Harvey (Mrs. G. W. Chrysup), Anna Jones, Lizzie Phillips.

To-day there is an attendance of 375 pupils in the Barry school and the following is the corps of teachers: Prof. E. H. Calhoun, superintendent; Mary F. Goff, principal; Herbert Hendricks, assistant; T. C. Moore, grammar; Nettie Shewe, No. 6; Jennie Mitchell, No. 5; Bessie Fitzpatrick, No. 4; Lettie Hubbard, No. 3; Ella Thompson, No. 2; ——Walters, No. 1.

There has always been a healthy religious sentiment in Barry. As early as 1828 the Methodists organized a society and built the first house of worship on what is known as Church square, but it was not until 1847 that the little band of worshipers became strong enough to command recognition from conference. In that year Barry circuit was established with Revs. I. C. Packard and H. S. Shaw as "circuit riders." The present church edifice, a very neat and commodious structure, was built in 1851 on block 26, Rev. M. Shunk being the minister then in charge. Barry station was established in 1870, Rev. J. W. Sinnock was assigned to the charge. At this time Rev. W. M. Hailey is the pastor.

The Baptist church was first organized in June, 1829, at Atlas, by Elders Jacob Bowers and Jesse Sutton. Eight persons constituted the roster of membership. Meetings were held at the homes of the brethren in various parts of Pleasant Vale township until the year 1836, when it was decided to build a house of worship near the Mayes spring, about a mile west of Barry. OBITUARY.

ALMIRON FITCH, A. M., M. D., the renowned physician and surgeon, died on the morning of January 9th, 1877, at his residence in Delhi, after a short illness, of typhoid pneumonia.

Dr. Fitch was born on the 8th of March. 1801. After completing his preliminary education he pursued the study of medicine, and graduated at the Fairfield Medical Collge March 1st, 1825.

He commenced the practice of his profession in Meredith, in this county, where he gained much popularity as a successful practitioner during the six years he remained there His skill becoming so well known and his ambition so far-reaching, that he felt the necessity of a larger field in which to labor, and removed to the village of Franklin, where he assiduously followed the practice of his profession for a period of eight years, at the expiration of which time, he being very favorably known not only as a physician but as a surgeon, again found himself in a field too circumscribed for his professional ambition, and resolved to remove to Delhi, the shire town of his county, where he remained, residing in the same house he first occupied there until his final departure from this world.

While a resident of Franklin he took an active part in the political and educational interests of the town; was an efficient worker for, and one of the founders of the Delaware Literary Institute. Also, while there, was appointed surgeon of the militia of the county, and evinced much interest in keeping up its "esprit du corps."

After removing to Delhi he soon became one of the leading physicians of the county, and at no very remote period thereafter, stood second to none in his vicinity as a practical surgeon. He was a diligent searcher after medical and surgical information and lost no opportunity to apply his knowledge and skill, and for many of the last years of his useful life was generally acknowledged to be one of the leading surgeons of Delaware county, ever ready to grapple any disease or injury, and his unerring scalpel was directed through many a sanguinary operation, even to some of the most difficult in surgical practice, like lithotomy, and for strangulated hernia, &c., &c. His operations were many and successful. During the last few years of his life, he seemed to have renewed energy in searching for the light that was being thrown upon the hitherto hidden mysteries of the noble profession of which he was so devoted a follower, and took pride in being among the first to put into practice the adopted new modes from time to time.

One of the great secrets in the treatment of disease is that of arriving at a correct diagnosis, and the writer would not do justice to the memory of our lamented Doctor, were the fact overlooked that Dr. Fitch was really an expert in diagnosing disease, one of the first and most important qualifications in a medical or surgical practitioner. His professional skill was not confined within the limits of his own county, but many there are in other counties who have reaped the benefit of his skill.

The Doctor was companionable and genial, and the sunlight of his countenance always seemed to animate his prostrate patients. But his usefulness was not alone confined to his profession, as he was always an uncommonly obliging neighbor, ever ready to sacrifice his own interests, to add to the comfort or convenience of others around him, and was an active worker in public enterprises. He was one of the pioneers in the movement for the plank road from Hancock to Walton; wishing its extension to Delhi, subscribed to quite an amount of stock, and did much to further the general interest of the road. He was active in promoting railroad facilities for his county.

During the anti-rent troubles in Delaware county, some years since, he sympathized with the tenants and took a deep interest in obtaining pardons for many who were condemned to State Prison or death, making several visits to Albany at his own expense, to intercede for mercy, without reward or hope of remuneration. In 1848 the anti-rent party, then a political body, nominated Dr. Fitch for Member of Congress, and though defeated by the late Herman D. Gould, he proved a very formidable opponent.

A few years since the degree of A. M. was conferred upon him by some Eastern College, the particulars of which have escaped the writer's memory.

The loss of our valued neighbor and friend will long be felt by this people, and it leaves a void not only in the community at large and in his family circle, where he was always so kind and genial, but in the Delaware County Medical Society, in which he has for many years been one of the most influential and active members, ever striving to promote its interests and the extension of medical knowledge.

Death of Dr. S. A. Fitch.

It has been known to our citizens for a long time that the mental and physical powers of this gentleman were fatally impaired, and that his stay with us was limited. But when on New Year's day, it was announced that his spirit had taken its flight, although measurably prepared for the announcement, the feeling of grief, and regard for his memory was not less deep and universal.

Perhaps no man of his age leaves a brighter record or was more endeared to or trusted by the community, Possessed of a brilliant and highly cultivated mind and kind heart, having attained an extensive and successful practice in his profession in which he was distinguished for his ministrations to both the temporal and spiritual wants of his patients; he was not less active, useful, and exemplary in the church, Sabbath school, temperance cause and the home circle.

Many soldiers will remember his gentle ministrations in the hospital, and citizens by the sick bed; as well as his words of christian advice and consolation.

His memory will be long cherished by our citizens, who sincerely lament that he has thus been removed from us in the what promised to be the commencement of a long course of usefulness and success.

Thus early he "rests from his labors, and his works follow him." Let us not

Obituary.

Died, at the residence of Simeon Fitch, Esq., 4 miles north of Barry, Ill., on the 5th of January, 1867, JOHN KERR, aged about 29 years.

The deceased was a native of Ireland, but came to this country several years ago. He was well and favorably known throughout the county. For the past few years his occupation had been that of a teacher; and by his industry, energy, good sense, and kind heart, he had more than ordinary success in his calling. He was a promising and a rising young man. Those who knew him best loved him most. Very many hearts are saddened by his death. Very few young men have been so universally esteemed as Mr. Kerr. His life was almost without a blemish. He was honest, prudent, industrious, intelligent—seeking worthy ends by worthy means. But his character was chiefly distinguished by an unflinching FIDELITY to every trust. No one ever committed anything to the care of John Kerr, and then felt the least misgiving as to his discretion or his integrity; but every one relied with implicit trust upon both, and were never disappointed. The writer of this article was an intimate friend of the deceased, and knew him well; and he would not have scrupled to trust to the discretion and the integrity of John Kerr his fortune, his honor, or his life.

Thus pass our nearest and our dearest friends. With a swelling heart and tearful eyes I mourn his loss. But why weep? We are all hastening on the same road. Our friend has just passed a few days before us. His was a useful and a blameless life; and though his hopes of honor and success on earth were early cut off, "To add greater honors than man could give him, he died fearing God."

"Green be the turf above thee,
Friend of my youthful days;
None knew thee but to love thee,
None named thee but to praise!"

The UNICORN GREENBACK

SIMEON FITCH, Editor.

BARRY, ILL., JANUARY 23, 1879.

Swinging Round the Circle.

Last Monday morning, rather late,
We stepped upon the east-bound freight,
In company with one more sinner
Going to Baylis for his dinner,
And don't you think that he declared
At Pineville House, so well he fared,
That he had half a mind to barter,
The Empire House with Mistress Carter;
And others too spoke in loud praise,
Of Pineville House these latter days.
But we think that will never do
Without consent of Webber, who
For his guests, a bill of fare
Gets, good as is had anywhere.

Baylis, as usual, we found still,
A quiet "city on a hill,"
Though quiet, it is not forsaken,
While forty UNICORNS are taken,
And doctors three are ready quickly
To visit those who may be sickly,
(Provided always, if secured
Are fees, when they are killed—or cured.)

The merchants say "the trade is quiet,
And advertising never pays."
Except one "green un" thought he'd try it,
And now he says it pays always.
In his own language let him speak;
"Since advertising here this week
I've had a real splendid trade,
Think advertising always paid."

mammoth merchant, Mr. Graves,
His advertising—and trade saves:
But, would he let us now contrive it,
We'd make a fuss, or else revive it,
For to succeed, men always think,
That they have need of printer's ink.

Just out of town a little way,
At Brother D.'s we dined that day,
And such a bounteous feast they had
As always makes the hungry glad.

From these kind friends and feast of gladness,
We hasten to the house of sadness,
Where parents' bitter tears are shed,
O'er their departed early dead.
Dear little "Maud" their first-born child,
Most three years old—yet undefiled,
Its spirit would no longer stay
In its frail tenement of clay.

Our heart like theirs, was three times torn,
We know their sorrrow while they mourn,
And yet can tell no human tongue,
The grief and pain of hearts thus wrung.
Nor can a human hand relieve,
The hearts that for a dear child grieve.

And none but God can heal the heart,
That e'er has seen death's cruel dart;
Thrust not at it—and yet so near one,
Unerring hit, and slay the dear one;
The idol, is it not oft so,
That it is soonest called to go,
Its spirit, as in natures laws,
r earthly spirit heavenward draws.

At Salem next we made a call,
A quiet country town, and small,
Yet where is found a pleasant home,
Near to the depot. S. M. Combs.'
The country round is most too healthy
For doctors to grow very wealthy,
Except in wealth most rare we find,
The culture of a healthy mind.

And while no one has aught to waste
There, Dr. Cobb displayed good taste,
His stock of knowledge to enhance,
Subscribed for, and paid in advance
The UNICORN—without a doubt
The best and cheapest paper out.

Barry excepted, there is not,
Than Griggsville, any prettier spot,
Within the country all around:
Situated on rising ground,
Noted for enterprise and health,
Nor less for Yankees than for wealth,
To which, by rail we moved along,
And now we hail with cheerful song.

All hail Griggsville! With Mr. Cree,
We supped, on crackers cake and tea,
After the which being invited,
O'er to the hall, we were delighted
With music sweet, and some rude sport,
Which we're expected to report.

"Home talent" you will understand,
A cultured minstrel troup, string band,
Where J—n Dunovan in his place,
With matchless skill played double bass;
The orchestra by Clark was led
And Charlie Kenny the flute played;
Frank Dickerson's viol's sweetest tones,
In harmony with Marshal's "bones,"
The crowded audience controled
As o'er each heart the music rolled.

The minstrels had their hair all kinked,
And hands and face so nicely inked,
That some might not detect the sham,
But think they were the sons of Ham.

The class to such perfection 's brought,
By Prof. Woods, who has it taught,
Who is our own town's boast and pride,
Whose reputation is world wide.

DUTCH GUS. T. MYERS,
Had been to school,
We doubt not, thus to play the fool,
With wooden shoes and garments queer,
His mouth stretched round from ear to ear,
A narrow forhead, narrower chin,
And covered all with one broad grin,
As he appeared upon the stage,
A lad 'bout twenty years of age,
Sung "Sauer Kraut" and danced and hopped,
At which most all laughed when he stopped.

A question with this lengthy puff:
Are there not natural fools enough!
If so, why not save the expense,
And cultivate more good hard sense!

Perhaps just here we ought to stop,
Nor make t' appear the Barber shop,
In which we failed to see one feature,
That could improve a living creature;
Unless imagination draw.
As much t' improve as pick a flaw,
To see the Dutchman look cross-eyed,
With hate, at darkies by his side,
And seem to be so much annoyed,
While he had two like them employed,
One at his feet, one at his face,
And think they there are in their place;
Of course that don't excite his passion,
Forsooth because that is the fashion,

Marshall's "Bone Solo" was a feat,
That by a darkey 's hard to beat.
And if our praise would not be flattering.
We'd say he's very good at clattering.

From thence at Pittsfield we report,
The doings of the County court,
Where, on the bench Judge Grigsby sits,
And each case hearing, he acquits,
Or, else condemns, as in his sight,
He deems in law, is just and right.

E. F. Binns is clerk; but then at times,
The work is done by [illegible] Grimes

Within the bar, were half a score
Of lawyers, who were puzzled sore,
To know how each could well explain,
The law, his client's case to gain.

'Mong not a few of civil cases,
Was one or two which now disgraces
The record—though with very shame
The parties we decline to name.

'Tis quite enough for us to say,
That one young man is doomed to pay,
One hundred dollars the first year,
(Which, for his crime is not too dear.
And if the child lives, we are told,
Must fifty pay till ten years old.

Now he may think that rather tough;
But we don't think it half enough,
A MILLION cannot pay the cost,
Of virtue gained, if once tis lost.

Do not despair thou erring one,
The Saviour did not cast a stone,
Though Jews self-righteous, pressed her sore.
He said "depart, and sin no more."

J. H, WHEELING.

Another thing we must not fail
To mention, was an auction sale,
where . H. wheeling, who for years
Has been called, "PRINCE OF AUCTIONEERS,"
Has in the store performed the work
Of salesman, auctioneer and clerk.

Died.

SEABORN—Near Baylis Jan. 16th, 1879, Maud, daughter of Wm H and S. M. Seaborn, aged 2 years 11 months and 16 days.

Its sufferings had been very great for six weeks, having been first attacked with spinal meningitis, then an abscess on its hip, and lastly Bronchitis.

THE FUNERAL.

At church the Rev. R. P. Dloke,
Some words of consolation spoke,
While friends and neighbors dropped the tear
Of sympathy upon the bier;
Then gently carried it away,
With its dear burden of cold clay
Into the graveyard—leaving just
The "earth to earth and dust to dust."

TO THE HONORABLE MAYOR AND COUNCIL, OF BARRY.

The cows are faring well to day,
Three of them eating from one sleigh,
And farmers who come into town,
Are mad enough to knock them down.
In their behalf we've long complained,
That city cows are not restrained.
A farmer can't bring in his sleigh,
A little straw or grain, or hay,
And leave to do a little chore,
In shop, Post Office, or the store,
Without, when done, and he comes back,
His hay is gone—is torn his sack,
And sometimes, what is worse, he finds,
The cows have "chawed" his whip and lines.
Now your petitioners would pray,
Your honorable body right away.

THE COUNTRY PEASANT VISITS HIS CITY COUSIN.

One day I went to the river side,
Intending to see my dear cousin Hyde.
Being hindered a while, when supper time came,
I thought from his style he would honor my name,
For he would not neglect his father-in-law,
No more than forget his own hungry craw.

I'll state ('tis no pity) that I, a poor sinner,
To late in the city arrived for my dinner,
Hence, hungry and dumb, as an old mother bear,
Could have eaten a crumb, which had cousin to spare;
Or, like a gaunt wolf, I would if I could,
Have eaten the bones of poor Red-riding-hood,
The verriest crust, to my taste Oh, how sweet,
Could have licked up the dust that lay waste at my feet,
T' appease the huge worm, which gave me no rest,
Was gnawing the germ of life in my breast.

When cous' goes to eat he invites a rich man,
Leaves me in the street to get what I can;
I turned on my heel with a stiff upper lip—
Does he think I can feel, while their tea they may sip!
I'll sit in the shade, and now take my rest,
Earth's glories will fade! Such kin is a pest!
But don't you suppose, (such treatment is cool,)
He judged by my clothes, and thought me a fool?

I know I'm not wise, but yet I can see,
He'll catch a surprise when he gets this from me.
I'll ne'er court the rich, though I may beg bread!
But trust in the God, that a Moses once fed,
Who can if he please, a raven yet send,
To feed all his poor, who on Him depend.

In the name of humanity, now I appeal,
To those filled with vanity, and hearts hard as steel,
Who live in the city, whose kindred are poor
And ignorant—have pity, nor turn them out door.

Webster Green is building a residence on Diamond Hill, although he tried to keep it still, nor did we hear a single word till we had learned he "caught the bird."

Married.

GREENE—HARRIS—In El Dara, at the residence of the bride's father, on the 17th inst. at 2 p. m., by Elder T. W. Dunkeson Mr. Webster Greene, of Barry, to Miss Lida Harris.

We would say, if we could,
To our friends something good,
For life and its duties are real,
While candor confesses
That Webster possesses,
A wife with rare beauties ideal.

May their journey be pleasant
Through life, as at present,
Their setting sun calm and serene,
Long life with contentment,
No strife or resentment,
We wish their lives one, Ever-Green.

KLEIN—KLEIN.—At the residence of the bride's parents, in Springfield, Ill., November 9th, 1878, at 3 o'clock p. m., by Rev. J. C. Clark, of the First Baptist Church, of Springfield, Mr. Wilfred I. Klein, of this city, to Miss Jennie M. Klein, of Springfield.

The boys went up to charivari
The Major, but he was so free,
To set cigars out for the boys
That they refrained their heinous noise.

'Cause we did not parade the street,
Horse-fiddles play, nor tin-pans beat,
Nor hoot or halloo like an owl,
Nor like incarnate fiends did howl,

Nor any way did make a fuss,
Is why he did not think of us.
Yet, notwithstanding—from the "devil,"
He'll please accept this GOOD, for evil.

[illegible] Fitch was born in Delaware county, New York, Dec. 2, 1818. When 24 years of age he came to Illinois and settled in Barry township, Pike county, which remained his residence till the time of his death, which occurred at 12 o'clock p. m. March 6, 1894. When about 21 years of age he was converted and united with the M. E. church, in which fellowship he continued till called to rest. In 1845 he was united in marriage to Lucinda A. Piper, and to them was born one child, a daughter; but neither wife nor daughter were spared to him but a few years. In 1854 he was united in marriage to Eliza Kerr. The fruits of this marriage were four sons and four daughters, of whom three sons and two daughters, together with his wife survive him. The pastor of Mr. Fitch was at his bedside some four hours before his death, and found him in a peaceful state of mind. The question was asked. "Does divine grace sustain you now that you are so near the crossing?" The answer was, "Yes, I am patiently waiting my change. God is too wise to err, and too good to be unkind." With these his last utterances he entered upon his rest. The funeral services of Mr. Fitch were conducted at the Methodist church by his pastor, Rev. McKendree McElfresh, March 8th, 1894.

Mr. Simon Fitch, an old citizen of Barry township, passed over the river of death Tuesday, his trouble being heart disease. Mr. Fitch was well known throughout this county. He first taught school, back in the '30s, then bought a farm where he lived until 1876, when he removed to Barry and published the Unicorn, a greenback paper. He was somewhat of a poet and his paper was generally full of poems. Mr. Fitch was a vigorous worker against the use of tobacco and whisky. He was so zealous in his work against these vices that while publishing his paper he would not, under any consideration, advertise either tobacco or malt liquors. Many men in the city of Barry and surrounding country would be better off financially and physically if they had taken his advice. His funeral was held at the M. E. church, of which he was a member, and his remains were laid to rest in our beautiful cemetery. Rev. McElfresh officiated at the funeral.

OBITUARY.

John Kerr, Sen., was born in Londonderry, Ireland, and died at his home a few miles southeast of this place, May 27, 1894, aged nearly 86 years. He was married to Eliza Torrens fifty-two years ago last February. To them were born six children, five daughters and one son, the daughters all having preceded him to the better land, leaving only the son, aged mother, son's wife and three grandchildren, His was an unpretending life. Kind to all, he will be missed by all who have known him so long and well. He was a member of the Methodist Episcopal church for a number of years. His long and exemplary life won for him a christian character which was held in high esteem by his friends and neighbors. He lived to a good age and was ready for his change. A man of integrity, submission and patience has finished his course and entered upon his reward. A very large attendance of the community were present at the funeral service, conducted by Rev. McKendree McElfresh. Mr. Kerr was a resident of Pike county for 45 years.

In Memoriam.

I have fought a good fight, I have finished my course I have kept the faith.

Simeon Fitch was born in Franklin, Delaware Co., New York, Dec. 2, 1818.

His youth and early manhood were passed in his native county. Then with the sirit of enterprise which characterized his after years, he turned his steps toward the, then, far West.

When 24 years of age he located on a farm about four miles from Barry, Ill.

In 1846 he married Lucinda A. Piper, whom death claimed in a few years. In 1854 he married Miss Eliza Kerr, who with five children survives him. Three were on the other shore to greet him, one a precious daughter, having gone before only four weeks.

Early in life Mr. Fitch chose the teacher's vocation, in which he was remarkably successful, both in his native state and in that of his adoption. He possessed a nature that dared, on all questions, to accept and defend the right. For years he stood almost alone, amid derision and persecution, the staunch advocate of the abolition of negro slavery.

Again the prohibition of rum and tobacco was most earnestly advocated both by voice and pen.

Intelligent and brave, as teacher, farmer, editor, he lived his life among us, his moral character unsullied and his integrity unquestioned.

Death had no terrors for him and March 6th at midnight, he sank to sleep with the blessed assurance of an happy awakening.

Funeral services from the M. E. church, conducted by Rev. McElfresh.

MR. SIMEON FITCH,

We learn from the Adage, died recently in Barry. For ten years he was the publisher of the Unicorn Greenback. He was the poet editor. In common conversation he often conversed in rhyme. We shall miss his cordial greeting. We often met him in Hannibal.

Obituary.

Died, Thursday, May 7th, 1891, Miss Mary Amelia Parsons, aged 34 years.

The funeral of Miss Mary Amelia Parsons, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Parsons, of Franklin, was attended at the Congregational church on Sunday afternoon. May 10, 1891.

The large number in attendance, and the beautiful floral offerings that were made, were evidence of the high esteem in which this young lady was held by the entire community.

The service was conducted by her pastor, Rev. G. H. Bailey, who preached an appropriate sermon from Hab. 3:17, 18, showing it to be the duty of every true child of God, under every circumstance, whether of blessing or affliction, amidst the overflowings of divine bounty or the want of all outward comforts, to joy and rejoice in the Lord. In closing the pastor said:

"On the part of these mourning friends, it is cause for inexpressible joy, that the dear one who has left them, gave such good evidence of her fitness for the kingdom of heaven—that she was so perfectly resigned to the will of her Heavenly Father, and sought so earnestly to please him.

How comforting the thought when our friends depart, that they died in the Lord—in the hope of a glorious immortality—that they gained the victory over death and the grave, so that they could say with the Apo tle, "O death, where is thy sting? O grave where is thy victory? The sting of death i sin, and the strength of sin is the law. Bu thanks be to God who giveth us the victor through our Lord Jesus Christ."

This loved one that is gone from us, ha a triumphant death, because hers was a li of faith—of implicit confidence in Go Her life was always characterized by lo and devotion to her Saviour and a desire promote His glory; but her friends ne knew the beauty and loveliness of her chr tian character as developed in the last fe weeks of her life.

Naturally retiring and reticent, she min led but little in society, and her charac was more resplendent in the home circ During her last illness I understand that s expressed regrets that she had not made t most of life by touching it in more poi and extending her influence beyond the ci cle of her immediate friends. Her life w thoroughly consecrated to the Master's se vice, and she ever sought to honor Him. is the testimony of her pastor that he h often been helped spiritually by conversi with her, for her language was always choi and her thoughts ennobling, and never d he hear from her lips a single word derog tory to the character of another—thus fulfi ing the divine injunction—"Only let yo conversation be as it becometh the Gospel Christ."

Mary was an ardent lover of nature, a life was as dear to her as to you or me, a she desired to live for the good she might c but was ready to say "Thy will be done She could not be otherwise than reconcil to God's will, since she was convinced th all events are directed in infinite wisd and love. She could but rejoice to be und the constant guidance and protection of t Almighty Being, with whom the prese and future are one eternal now, and w will do all things well for those who lo and trust Him.

May her life of simple, earnest, childli faith and devotion to the Master's servi be an inspiration to each of us.

She needs no eulogy from me. Her frien and acquaintances want none. Her o works praise her. The will of God is do and let us all say as she said, "It is well, is well."

I feel my inability to say anything soothe the sorrow of this afflicted famil But there is one who is able, an almight compassionate Friend, and who in His ow good way and time, will heal the wounds H sees fit to inflict on His children, who p their trust in Him. He will impart su divine consolations, such heavenly pea and submission to His holy will, as sha insure present comfort and a fore-taste of f ture felicity. And when our trials are pa and we are through with this world, we sha know for what reasons they were assigned us. We shall see the wisdom and goodne of a tender Parent. This truth we now be lieve, and as far as we are able, to realize and to yield obedience to the divine wil shall we reap the benefits and supports w so greatly need. These supports and cons lations you enjoy, and I pray God to gra you from time to time, strength to help i every time of need and his favor and pro tection here and hereafter.

Oh, friends, one and all, with Mary faith, and Mary's spirit of devotion, we ma not only rejoice in the Lord, and joy in th God of our salvation, but we may hope t attain to the rest and the happiness of hea en, where Jesus our Saviour, through who we have access to the Father, is now befo the throne, a pledge and an earnest to a that believe, that this mortal shall put o immortality, this corruptible incorruptibili ty, and death shall be swallowed up in vic tory.

OBITUARY.

ELIZA FITCH.

Miss Eliza Kerr was born near Londonderry, Ireland, May 1, 1834, and departed this life at the home of her daughter Mrs. Ed Hart, Wednesday night, April 29, 1914; aged 79 years, 11 months and 28 days. She emigrated to America with relatives in 1848 and grew to womanhood in a home near Shaws school house, southeast of this city. She was united in marriage with Simeon Fitch August 3, 1854, and to them were given eight children, of whom three sons and two daughters survive, namely: Charles S. of Emporia, Kan.; E. E. of Marcelline, Mo.; Owen and Mrs. Ed. Hart of Barry and Miss Mary, a teacher in the schools at De Kalb, Ill. Her husband has been dead a number of years and she has occupied the old home, north of Barry depot, until age and her feeble condition led her to go to her children, spending several years with her daughter, Mary, while she taught school in various cities, and later visiting among her children. Several weeks ago she came to the home of her daughter, Mrs. Ed Hart, west of Barry, where she was tenderly cared for until death released her frail body from earthly suffering and cares, leaving to her children a sweet memory of a mother's love and influence. From very early life she has been a Christian, and through all the years has loved the church and Sunday school, where she taught a class in the days of her young womanhood. She was always loyal and faithful to her pastors and on the activities of the church life. Funeral services were held from the Methodist church Saturday, May 2, 1914, at 3:00 p. m. Rev. D. V. Gowdy preached the sermon, W. M Hailey offered prayer and Dr. M. V. Collins, Mrs. H. T. Jones, Alvah Kaylor and W. M. Hailey composed the choir, with Mamie Carr as organist. Rev. Gowdy took for his text: "As one whom his mother comforteth, so I comfort you."—Isaiah 66:13. Burial was made in Barry cemetery.

The UNICORN GREENBACK

BARRY, - - - ILLINOIS

VALEDICTORY.

This issue completes the tenth and last volume of the UNICORN.

When, ten years ago, we rather unexpectedly found ourself the proprietor of a newspaper, we did not dream of continuing its publication this long, and in ceasing from our editorial labors now we are only doing what we expected to have done several years ago.

During this time we have not escaped the little annoyances that fall to the lot of every country publisher, and yet we have gained much both of pleasure and profit, from our humble task.

By our open condemnation of what we believed to be wrong and our earnest endeavors to uphold the right, we have made many enemies but we have no regrets for the course pursued—no favors to ask of these enemies. To the friends who have given us either moral or material support, we wish to return our sincere thanks.

Barry offers many inducements to anyone wishing to enter the field of journalism, and a new paper will likely spring up and flourish here in the near future. But as for us, other interests now demand our attention.

Very Respectfully,

S. FITCH.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to expres our sincere appreciation to the neighbors and friends for their kind acts of sympathy and beautiful floral offerings during the illness and death of our husband and father.

Mrs. E. E. Fitch and Children.

  Moved into a house 'up' on the corner. Possible, up from original home.
- Eliza (Kerr) Fitch, wife of Simeon Fitch, lived with 'them'. Unknown as to date.
  Eliza, moved back to Barry, IL, and lived with Simeon's sisters, Mary and Anna Fitch.
  Eliza, was a very dainty, white-haired woman. Born in Londonerry, Ireland.

  before he married his 1st. wife, Lucinda Piper, in Barry, IL ???

II. Per John:

- John's mother, Louise (Bourke) Lippitt, disassociated herself from the D.A.R. (Daughters of the American Revolution) when opera star, Marion Anderson, scheduled to perform at the D.A.R. Convention Hall, in Washington, DC, was found out to be 'colored'. Her scheduled Concert was canceled. However, she did perform in Washington, DC, in front of the Lincoln Memorial.... ..
- General John Pershing grew up in Laclede, Missouri.
  John's maternal grandparents, Bourke, lived in Laclede, MO.
- General John Pershing arrived in Meadville, MO in the private railroad car of the President of Burlington Railroad Company.
- Mrs. Lomax (the banker's wife), looked after John's grandmother, lived next door.

  Gen. Pershing, was 'taken' by John's younger sister, Ann. Kept her on his knee.
  Attendees of the 'dinner' kept coming over to Mrs. Lomax's house, to remind the the General that dinner was ready.
  John's grandmother Bourke happened to mention, to the General, that she had known his mother from church. That did 'hold up' the dinner, while the General chatted with Mrs. Bourke.
  This in 1927-1928, Gen. Pershing celebrated his 70th. birthday in, Laclede, MO.
- John's grandfather 'Bourke', was a doctor, in Laclede, MO.
- John's grandfather, Albert Lippitt, served in the Ohio Infantry, during the Civil War.
  After the war, he "walked" from Southern Ohio, thru Indiana, Illinois, and Iowa, looking for farm land to purchase. He eventually settled in: Meadville, Missouri, where the family farm still stands, as you are reading these notes. He had to have "walked" through many miles of fertile farm land, before reaching Meadville. Price / cost to purchase, must have been the deciding factor in continuing the journey until reaching Meadville, MO.

THE FITCH FAMILY.

The name was anciently written FYTCHE, FFYTCHE, FYTCH, FFYTCH, FFITCH,- now FITCH.

The family is one of the old Anglo Saxon families of England, which has been settled in the County of Essex for many centuries. According to tradition the family came from Saxony, from a place whose name in English means Fitchfields, at the time when Hengist and Horsa with their followers subdued the country, and drove the ancient Britons to the mountains of Wales and Cornwall, and the Saxon Heptarchy was formed. Erkenwin with his host expelled the Britons from the region now known as the County of Essex, and settled down upon it with his followers, becoming recognized as King of the East Saxons or Essex, about A. D. 530, and the legend is probable that one or more families of the name of Fitch were in Erkenwin's host, as, for centuries the family has been living in Essex.

JOHN FITCH was living at Fitch Castle in the parish of Widdington in the northwest part of Essex in 1294.

The immediate ancestor of the Connecticut Fitchs was THOMAS FITCH, born 1590, who lived and died at Booking, (adjoining Braintree) in Essex County, England, between 11 Dec. 1632 and 12th. of Feb. following. On 6 Aug. 1611 he married ANNA PEW, as appears from the ancient Church Register at Bocking.

Reve

His will, dated 11 Dec. 1632, proved 12 Feb. 1632-;33, is copied in full in the N. E. Hist. & Gen. Register for 1892, Vol. 46, p. 323. In this will the testator names his wife ANNA, and his ten children, to wit:- THOMAS, JOHN, JAMES, NATHANIEL, JEREMY, SAMUEL, JOSEPH, MARY, ANNA, and SARA, mentioning Thomas as being his eldest son and Samuel and Joseph as his younger sons. All of the children were then minors.

Thomas Fitch of Bocking was possessed of a large amount of real and personal property for that day. He devises to his son Thomas a considerable amount of real property at Bocking and in its vicinity, and makes provision in real or personal property for all of his children, and leaves his residuary estate to his wife Anna, who is appointed sole executrix, and by the will required to give a bond as such for L 2000.

He mentions in his will his loving friend Mr. Hooker, probably the eminent Rev. Thomas Hooker who subsequently came to America, and who was the pioneer founder of Hartford.

Five of the sons of Thomas Fitch of Bocking, with their widowed mother emigrated to this country in 1638, and settled in Connecticut, coming first to Saybrook it is believed, but afterwards removing to and becoming early settlers or founders of other towns in that colony, as follows, viz.:

1. THOMAS. Where he was prior to 1651, I have not yet ascertained. In that year he became one of the settlers and founders of Norwalk, his name appearing upon its records as a settler in 1651-'52. His descendants are numerous. He was great-grandfather of Gov. Thomas Fitch.

Probably the wrong family. John died in England.

2. JOHN, settled at Windsor in 1643; married 9 Dec. 1656, MRS. ANN HILLIER, widow; was mortally wounded in the Great Swamp Fight in the Narragansett Indian War, 19 Dec. 1675. He left no children and gave all his property to support a school in Windsor. He was buried 10 May 1676. His widow Ann died 20 Jan. 1686.

3. REV. JAMES, born 24 Dec. 1622; studied theology under Rev. Mr. Hooker at Hartford; appearing there in 1638; was pastor at Saybrook from 1646 to 1660, in which year, in company with Major John Mason and the greater part of his church members, he removed to settle at Norwich.

He was chaplain in King Philip's War; an assistant; a deputy, and very prominent in colonial affairs.

He married twice; 1st. ABIGAIL, daughter of REV. HENRY WHITFIELD; 2d. PRISCILLA, daughter of MAJOR JOHN MASON, the leader in the Pequot War.

He had nine sons and five daughters, from whom a numerous posterity has descended.

He died 18 Nov. 1702 at Lebanon, Ct., where he is buried.

4. SAMUEL, was perhaps at Milford in 1644, but was certainly settled at Hartford as early as 1650.

He married 1st. SUSANNAH, (MARY according to Savage) widow of WILLIAM WHITING, and had two sons, viz: SAMUEL 2d., who married SARAH, daughter of RICHARD BRYAN son of ALEXANDER BRYAN of Milford, (Alexander Bryan was an assistant for many years and an influential man in the Colony.), and had only one daughter. The other son of Samuel Fitch 1st. was THOMAS, who married 1st. ABIGAIL, daughter of ENSIGN WILLIAM GOODRICH and SARAH MARVIN, and had two children, both of whom died in infancy; 2d. SARAH, daughter of SAMUEL BOARDMAN, by whom he had four children. Samuel Fitch 1st. was a teacher; Deputy 1654-'5. He died about 1659. His widow married 3d. Alexander Bryan of Milford, Ct.

5. JOSEPH, accompanied his brother Thomas to Norwalk, where he purchased a house lot, but remained only about three years, and in 1655 removed to Northampton, Mass., and in 1660 went to Hartford, and finally settled in Windsor. He was Deputy 1662-'68. He married MARY, daughter of REV. SAMUEL STONE, the successor of Rev. Thomas Hooker at Hartford. Joseph Fitch was the great-grandfather of John Fitch, the original inventor of steam navigation.

> Hinman says:- "The Fitch family did more for schools and schooling in the early settlements, than any other, except Gov. Hopkins."

THE FITCH ARMS.

According to the Heralds' Visitations of Essex, the Fitchs were entitled to two shields and two crests, one being the original Fitch and the other the Cornwallis to which the Fitchs had become entitled through marriage.

The description is as follows:

"ARMS. (2 Shields) 1. Vert. a chevron between three leopards' heads erased, or, (Fitch) impaling sable, gutte d'eau on a fess argent, three cornish choughs proper (Cornwallis).

2 Vert. a chevron between three leopards' heads erased, or, (Fitch).

CRESTS. 1. A. leopard passant proper sustaining within his dexter paw an escutcheon vert. charged with a leopard's head erased, or, (Fitch). p. Robert Cooke, Claren, a 1583.

2. A lion's face erased, or, in his mouth a broken sword proper, hilted, gules. (Cornwallis)."

Vermont's Am. Heraldica, p. 57, gives for the Fitch Crest:- "A leopard head, cabossed, or, across the mouth a sword proper, hilted, gules."

Mottoes: A. Prompt et certain.

B. Spes juvat.

And for arms:-

"Vert. a chevron, between three lions' heads, erased, or.", p. 115.

He says this was the crest and arms used by Gov. Fitch as shown by his seal.

It evidently gives the Cornwallis crest with the Fitch arms.

At FIRST glance the attached may well appear to be "odd bed-fellows".
What are: Atwater; Buck; De Long; Grant; Miner; Root, no less
Bradford County, Pennsylvania doing in a
"Polecat Express" mailing ???

1. Atwater, Goldie - was the first wife of: Edward Emmett Fitch
   Five (05) children listed, from this marriage.
   LOOK familiar ??? Further information ???
2. Buck / Wolfe, for information only.
3. Buck, William Sherman - married to Mary Ann Fitch March 09, 1844
   Both, including their three (03) children, died: August 1847
   What occurred in Tazwell County, Illinois, August 1847 ???
   From which "Fitch" was Mary Ann (aka Ann) descended ???
   Wm. Sherman Buck's grandfather (his name-sake) was married to:
   Elizabeth Sherman, sister of signer of Declaration of Independence,
   Roger Sherman Then wonder where Wm. came by his middle name ???
4. De Long, Daniel J. - married Emma McColley, who was the daughter of:
   Adeline Buck. Adeline was a descendant of Wm. Sherman Buck who was the grandfather of the Wm. Sherman Buck that was married to:
   Mary Ann Fitch, Lancaster Co., PA and died: Tazwell Co., Illinois
   Is Daniel J. any relation to Sarah Elizabeth De Long that married:
   Nathaniel Fitch who was a descendant of the ~~Rev. James Fitch~~ ???
5. Fitch, KK relationship to Thomas I. (previously mailed)
6. Grant, Ulysses Simpson (Hiram Ulysses) son of Jesse 'Root' Grant.
   Where, in 'his' ROOTS did the father of US Grant acquire the middle name of: ROOT ??? At least two (02) Roots were married to Fitches. See "Root".
7. Miner, Capt. John - father of Grace Miner who was married to: Samuel Grant, Sr., ancestor of US Grant. Also, ancestor of the wife of Wm. Sherman Buck.
   Barentha (York) Buck was the daughter of: Lucretia Miner. Lucretia was the sister of: Capt. John Miner.
8. Root - a. Joel and Eleanor (Strong) had eight (08) daughters. Susan Augusta was married to Dr. Eleazer Thompson Fitch, Sept. 05, 1822
   b. Polly Maria, was wife of Lewis Haines Fitch and the mother of:
   Dr. Thomas Davis Fitch born on July 14, 1829
   c. Could Susan Augusta be a sister of Polly Maria ???
   Could either of them, or any of their six (06) other sisters be part of the reason for the existence of Jesse "Root" Grant ???
9. Bradford County, Pennsylvania - is / was the home, or stop, of Bucks, Fitch, and Wolfes.
   a. see attached
   b. What other names, dates, etc., have you come across in your family findings ???
   Especially those with some association with / to: Bradford Co., PA ???

On my trip to Akron last month, my brother's asked me "Have you found our relationship with Adam and Eve, yet"? My response was, "Gettin' closer, every single day". The above bears some of the fruit of that profound statement.... ..

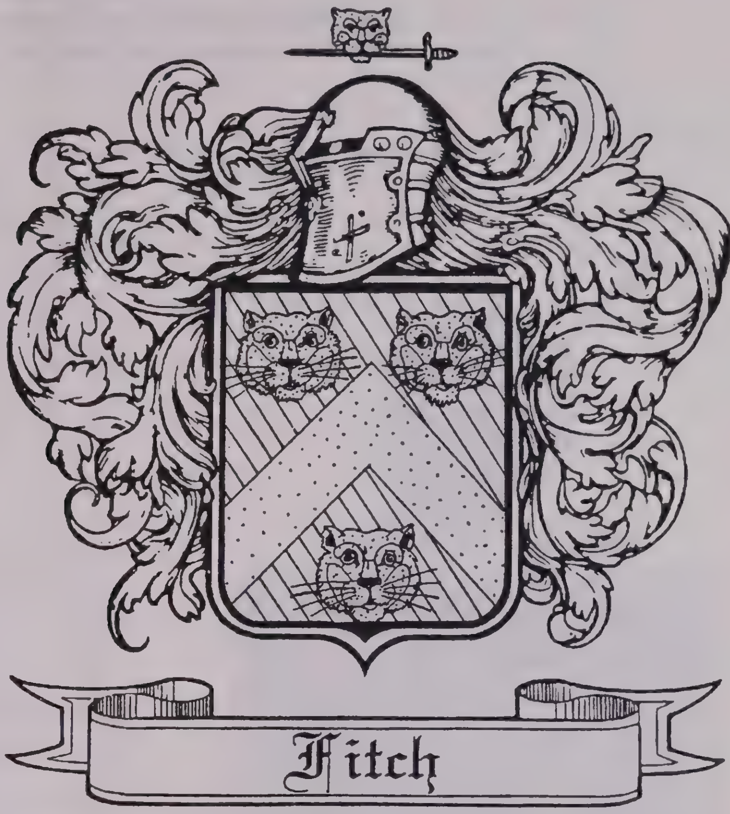
The Fitch Coat Of Arms

And Its History



Coats of Arms were developed in the Middle Ages as a means of identifying warriors in battle and tournaments. The present function of the Coat of Arms (although still one of identity) serves more to preserve the traditions that arose from its earlier use.

Heraldic artists of old developed their own unique language to describe an individual Coat of Arms. The Coat of Arms illustrated herein was drawn by an heraldic artist from information recorded in ancient heraldic archives. Our research indicates that there are often times a number of different Coats of Arms recorded for a specific surname. When possible we select and translate the Coat of Arms most representative of your surname or its variant for illustration.

THE FITCH COAT OF ARMS HEREBY ILLUSTRATED IS OFFICIALLY DOCUMENTED IN BURKE'S GENERAL ARMORY. THE ORIGINAL DESCRIPTION OF THE ARMS (SHIELD) IS AS FOLLOWS:

"VERT A CHEV. BETW. THREE LEOPARDS' FACES OR."

WHEN TRANSLATED THE BLAZON ALSO DESCRIBES THE ORIGINAL COLORS OF THE FITCH ARMS AS:

"GREEN; A GOLD CHEVRON BETWEEN THREE GOLD LEOPARDS' FACES."

ABOVE THE SHIELD AND HELMET IS THE CREST WHICH IS DESCRIBED AS:

"A GOLD LEOPARD'S HEAD, FULL–FACED, IN ITS MOUTH IS A NATURALLY COLORED SWORD WITH A RED HILT."

Although there is no reference here to Fitch, the seal, shown in detail in Figure 9 from a slightly later document, [1] may be significant. It is described as:

> A shield of arms: three crosses crosslet, in fess point a roundle.

Around the edge is the legend "S' IOHANNIS: DE CAVENDYSH" where the S' is an abbreviation for Sigillum or seal. From a heraldry viewpoint, the description of the three crosses around a "roundle" is virtually identical to the shield of arms, which at some point became known, correctly or incorrectly, as the Ancient arms of Fitch. One can only wonder whether the John of Cavendish who used these arms was the progenitor of a Fitch family line.

(From History of the Fitch Family by R. C. Fitch)

The second set of Fitch arms is called the 16th century arms (or Fitch modern) perhaps because that is when they mystery. Sir Comport was granted the right to use the arms, "with the Difference of three Cross Croslets Fitché Gules upon the Chevron."[1] It seems unlikely the College would have specified this "Difference" as a random modification; they chose, instead, what must have already been known as another form of the Arms of Fitch.

Later, several Fitches in the nineteenth century used arms which combined the ancient and sixteenth century versions (Figure 11).[2] Here we have both the crosses and the leopard's heads, given equal weight.

The earliest actual use of either Fitch arms that I have been able to find is on the brass of Thomas' second son, William Fitch, in All Saints Church, Little Canfield (Figure 12). William died in 1578. Thus, it is not surprising that the leopard head arms are known as the sixteenth century arms. In his will, he asked his executors to prepare "a convenient and fair marble stone engraved with my arms out. He first settled at Plattekill in Middletown, where he took up a tract of land, but left this place in a short time for Delhi, where he owned a farm, upon which he lived a number of years, afterward selling it, and retiring to Binghamton, where he died at the age of eighty-six years. Mrs. Hume was distantly related to General Scott. She was the mother of five children, namely: Walter; Agnes, the wife of John Atkin, a farmer of Delhi; Janet, the wife of George Laidlow, also a farmer of Delhi; Henry H.; and Mary. Mrs. Hume resided with her son until her death, which occurred when she was eighty-one years of age.

Henry H. Hume spent his boyhood days in Delhi, where he attended the district schools. He worked on a farm by the month, and at the age of twenty-five hired a farm for three years, afterward purchasing a small farm on the Little Delaware. He remained here for eight years, meeting with great success in his undertaking. At the end of this period he purchased his present place, and has to-day a fine farm of two hundred and sixty acres, and a dairy of some forty cows, besides a large number of sheep. He makes a specialty of the manufacture of fine butter, with which he supplies the New York and local markets, turning out about three hundred pounds per week.

Mr. Hume was married in 1856 to Elizabeth Ann Douglass, a daughter of William and Margaret (Robson) Douglass. Mr. Douglass was a prominent farmer of Meredith, where he resided for many years. Mr. and Mrs. Hume have five children, namely: William D., of Bovina; Henry S., a farmer; Robert H., a carpenter; Walter A.; and James. Mr. Hume is a member of the Grange at DeLancey. In politics he is a Republican, and cast his first vote for General Scott on the Whig ticket. Both he and his wife have been active members of the Scotch Presbyterian church for many years, he having been a Trustee of the church, and also one of the Building Committee when it was erected. He is one of the most successful farmers in the county, and is essentially a self-made man, whose earnestness of purpose and strict integrity have placed him in his present position, and gained him the esteem and respect of his associates.

MRS. SYLVIA ELIZA FOOTE, of the village of Franklin, N.Y., is the estimable widow of Russell Foote, a prominent gentleman who died in this town, January 26, 1883, at the age of seventy-two. He was born in the same town, and was a son of Elias Foote, who came hither from Connecticut with his bride, Sally Tracey, in 1806, and in company, also, with his brother, Russell Foote. Here was born their son in 1810, and named after his uncle Russell; but, while he was very young, the family removed to the town of Otsego in the county of the same name. They had four sons and two daughters, as follows, the husband of the subject of this sketch being the eldest. David Foote lives in Franklin, as does his sister, Esther Foote. Asa Foote is no longer living, but his brother Ezekiel is in North Franklin. Jane Sylvia Foote and her 2 sister, Lois J., who married Jonathan Fitch, 1 are deceased. The father, Elias Foote, died in North Franklin, in 1855, at the ripe age of eighty-eight, a well-preserved and vigorous man; and his disconsolate wife followed him in eighteen months, aged seventy-six. In religion they were consistent Free Will Baptists; and they were worthy, steadfast, laborious pioneers in this region, where money was scant, but work plentiful.

The mother's maiden name was Sylvia Eliza Loveland. She was born in 1820, in Franklin, the daughter of Benjamin K. and Clarissa (Mann) Loveland. Mother Loveland was from Connecticut; but Father Loveland was born in Franklin, though his parents also came from Connecticut. The grandfather was Abner Loveland. He was elected one of the town officers at the second town meeting ever held in the place, and died in 1799, about the same time as the Father of his country. His son, Benjamin K., Mrs. Foote's father, was born in 1793, and died in 1831, aged only thirty-eight. His widow outlived him thirty-seven years, dying in 1868, aged seventy-six; and they both rest in the churchyard. They had one son and four daughters, Mrs. Foote being the eldest of the girls. Her sister, Althea Loveland, died in her youth, while at the normal school in Albany. Clarissa was a teacher, and died in 1869, in middle life.

Dear Ms. Fitch,

A search of the census records seems to have yielded the best information on your family in North Franklin, first through Samuel and Naomi, and then through Jonathan, who seems to have remained single and lived with his mother. I cannot seem to find a death notice for her, but I did find one for him. The cemetery records supplied the date for her death. I have included all the Fitches found in the census records in Franklin although some may not be related.

There is a marriage notice for Abigail and, I assume, Enoch in the cemetery records would have been her brother. Could Mary Hilborn or Kilborn be another sister, which accounts for both families living in the same household in the 1860 census?

The Franklin map from 1869 shows the location of the J. Fitch farm which is not too far from the Kilborn farm, another reason for thinking the families might be connected.

Thank you for your generous donation to the research process. Continued success in your work.

Sincerely,

Helen M. Casey

Wolf(e) - Wolf(e)

March 13, 1998

Dear Mrs. Deborah K. Small:

Imagine the wonder of my amazement when I located the address of the compiler of:

Henry Fitch of Maryland

As you see - - - my interest, in your compilation, lies in the last name. For years, I have been in the process of amassing as many published works of: Fitch as possible. By taking the prolonged, hard labours of others, I am attempting to trace us all, to one common Fitch ancestor. This enjoyable endeavor has lead me to you, via a three year old phone CD. How easy it is. Thank you for having a listed telephone number, which gave me the address to which this query is directed.

Let me back up, just a bit. Somewhere in the vague references of memory, my father had mentioned that my mother, and my grandmother Fitch had the same maiden name. Therein began the search. It, being to isolate a: Wolf(e) - Wolf(e) Connection, if any. As evidenced by your book, you are exceedingly aware of the 'how' of one's unquenchable thirst for knowledge leads them through many doors. On my maternal grandfather's side, I have: Wolf(e) - Cripe. On my paternal grandmother's side, there is: Wolfe - Buck. My mother, Eleanor Wolfe married Kennett Kerr Fitch, grandson of Simeon and Eliza (Kerr) Fitch, and son of Emmett Edward and Daisy Dell (Wolfe) Fitch. My grandmother, Daisy Dell Wolfe, was the daughter of David W. and Sarah Ellen (Buck) Wolfe. To date, I have traced the Wolf(e)s back to:

maternal side = WOLFE, Bedford Co., Penn. CRIPE, Huntington Co., Penn.
paternal side = WOLFE, Bradford Co., Penn. BUCK, Bradford Co., Penn.

In your marvelous compilation, you cite ancestry in Tazewell Co., and Knox Co., Ill. Also, on page 22, is listed a John Buck, appraiser of Henry Fitch. I've uncovered a William Sherman and Mary Ann (Fitch) Buck who died, along with their three children, in Tazewell Co., Ill. in August 1847. Mary Ann was born, February 21, 1819, in Lancaster, Penn. That is the extent of the information I have on Mary Ann Fitch. Would, by any stretch of the imagination, this Mary Ann be related to your Henry ?

Where, in my review of your writings, did I miss you, or your, inclusion in this magnificent manuscript? Please accept my apology, should the obvious be alluding my uneducated eye.

Have you further research that you would care to share with me, on your Fitches, and/or any other branch of your chronicled families? Speaking of your published research, you may already have figured out that due to your copyright having expired, it became available courtesy of our Library of Congress. Resultant of a Fitch query of listed publications, yours was available and summarily acquired by me.

So many unanswered questions arise, with the turning of each successive book-page, Anything that you would be willing to share with me, shall be treated with the upmost of confidentiality, unless instructed otherwise. In any case, please accept my profound thanks for your invaluable contributions.

Your time, energy, and efforts are sincerely appreciated.

Respectfully,

Karen K. Fitch

Wolfe / Wolfe

March 01, 1998

Dear Mrs. Ailene Fitch Lewis:

First, and foremost, thank you for submitting your fantastic Fitch finds to our Library of Congress. Fortunately for me, the copyright expired thereby permitting me to become acquainted with you and your ancestral heritage. Even though I have YET to find a definitive link between your family and mine, maybe now that will become a reality.

As you see by my 'busy' letterhead, my name is (also) Fitch. In fact, has been since the day I was born, and shall remain so until I am chosen to go on to the largest genealogical find ever.

Co-incidentally, my father was born in Marceline, Mo. His father, born in N. Franklin, NY. This side of the Fitch family, came from Bocking Co. Essex, England around the mid-1600's.

My genealogical interest, though several years old, began originally upon being informed that my paternal grandmother's maiden name, was the same as my mother's maiden name. That link, for now, is still illusive. Yes, in the upper right-hand corner does give you the surname.

The link, though obscure, is there. The possibility does exist that it might be in a backward sort of way. My grandmother was: Daisy Dell (Wolfe) Fitch. Her mother was: Sarah Ellen Buck. Sarah Ellen Buck was the 4th. cousin, twice removed of: William Sherman Buck. William Sherman was married to a Mary Ann Fitch. Mary Ann, according to Cornelius B. Harvey, Esq. 1889 compilation of the "Buck Family", says she was from Lancaster, Pa. Am enclosing their family page, for your perusal. Both William S., and Mary Ann, along with their three young children died in August 1847, in Tazewell Co., IL. Imagine my excitement when I discovered that "YOU" recorded FITCH's in Tazewell Co., IL., also.... .. On page(s) 85, 86, you show the 10th. child of Salatiel Fitch, as Nathan. Nathan was married to Mary (Polly) Fitzgerald, on March 12, 1827. Your 1850 census recording from Tazewell Co., IL. shows that Nathan, and Mary, had seven (07) children. One, of which was named Eveline. Again, co-incidentally, one of William Sherman and His 'Mary's children was named Eveline. Could their be a connection between your Mary, and mine? Could whatever killed my Mary and her family, see fit to spare your Mary and her family? Have you any other Tazewell Co., IL. recordings that might shed some much needed light on the above? 'Nuff of my questions.

Also, via our Library of Congress, I obtained a copy of: "Henry Fitch of Maryland", compiled by Deborah K. Small, Winter Park, Fl., 1984. Are you familiar with her compilation? On page 57, she lists a Nathan Fitch, married to a Mary (Polly) Fitzgerald. This Mary's parents were named: James and Fannie (Hughes) Fitzgerald. It shows that this Nathan and Mary had four (04) children named: Thomas J., Samuel Houston, Susan, and Evaline Hughes. So many co-incidents for them to be other than one in the same Nathan and Mary. Just checked the birth dates - - - THEY ARE ONE IN THE SAME.... .. Shall copy page 86, and enclose with this letter. In fact, if you would like, I will be glad to zip off an extra copy of "Henry", for you. It just MAY answer some of the questions you did have. If it is the same Nathan, his ancestry would start with: "Henry Fitch of Maryland", son of Salatheil, who was son of Henry, who was the son of William, who was the son of: Henry Fitch of Maryland".

May you be able to make some sense of all of this. Better yet, may it be of valuable information for you in your quest for family heritage.

Sincerely,

Karen K Fitch

My hobby is genealogy, I raise dust bunnies as pets

How can one ancestor cause so much TROUBLE??

I looked into my family tree and found out I was a sap

I'm not stuck, I'm ancestrally challenged

I'm searching for myself; Have you seen me ?

If only people came with pull-down menus and on-line help...

Isn't genealogy fun? The answer to one problem, leads to two more!

It's 1998... Do you know where your-Great-G. Grandparents are?

A family reunion is an effective form of birth control

A family tree can wither if nobody tends it's roots

A new cousin a day keeps the boredom away

After 30 days, unclaimed ancestors will be adopted

Am I the only person up my tree... sure seems like it

Any family tree produces some lemons, some nuts and a few bad apples

Ever find an ancestor HANGING from the family tree?

FLOOR: The place for storing your priceless genealogy records.

Gene-Allergy: It's a contagious disease, but I love it

Genealogists are time unravelers

Genealogy is like playing hide and seek: They hide... I seek!

Genealogy: Tracing yourself back to better people

"Crazy" is a relative term in my family

A pack rat is hard to live with, but makes a fine ancestor

I want to find ALL of them! So far I only have a few thousand

I Should have asked them BEFORE they died!

I think my ancestors had several "Bad heir" days

I'm always late. My ancestors arrived on the JUNEflower

Only a Genealogist regards a step backwards, as progress

Share your knowledge, it is a way to achieve immortality

Heredity: Everyone believes in it until their children act like fools!

It's an unusual family that hath neither a lady of the evening or a thief.

Many a family tree needs pruning

Shh! Be very, very quiet.... I'm hunting forebears.

Snobs talk as if they had begotten their own ancestors!

That's strange: half my ancestors are WOMEN!

I'm not sick, I've just got fading genes

Genealogists live in the past lane

Cousins marrying cousins: Very tangled roots!

Cousins marrying cousins: A non-branching family tree

Alright! Everybody out of the gene pool!

Always willing to share my ignorance....

Documentation...The hardest part of genealogy

Genealogy: Chasing your own tale!

Genealogy...will I ever find time to mow the lawn again?

That's the problem with the gene pool: NO Lifeguards

I researched my family tree... and apparently I don't exist!

SO MANY ANCESTORS..........................SO LITTLE TIME!

Nother note from my mom this week. Will send one off, as well as a note to

Letter from Josephine Cochran
To Madison Lorenzo Fitch 1810-1899

May 26, 1890?
Shelbyville, Illinois

Dear Uncle,

I have just been rereading a letter you wrote me some three years ago. This is the only letter I ever received from any of my mother's brothers and I appreciate it very much. I would like to hear from you again. I often think of you and wonder if you are well and happy. It would be a very great pleasure to me if I could make you a visit and form the acquaintance of yourself and family. Cousin Andrew Fitch is the only member of the Fitch family I ever meet. It seems sad to know so little of one's own family.

I have been reading considerable about John Fitch, the inventor of steam navigation. Fulton claims to be the first man that propelled a boat by steam, but this is not true. John Fitch run a steamboat on the Delaware River twenty-one years before Fulton did. Now, while reading about this man Fitch, I got to wondering if he was in any way related to us. I then remembered that Irene had at one time sent me some old papers, letters and family records.

I took these old records and compared them with the record of the life and death of John Fitch, the inventor.I found the records of John Fitch, your grandfather, and the records of John Fitch, the inventor, so similar that I began to think that they were one and the same person. These papers that I have, state that John Fitch, your grandfather, died suddenly while traveling. The encyclopedia says that John Fitch, the inventor, was taken sick while traveling and that his physician gave him morphine pills, that in some way he got an overdose of them and died from the effects. It is supposed he committed suicide. Whether intentionally or not is not known.

I would be very glad if you would give me all the information you can on the life and death of your grandfather Fitch.

If the inventor John Fitch was my great grandfather, he has my heartfelt sympathy, for I know what it is to work and hope and wait and struggle against all kinds of disappointments, with but very little encouragement from anyone, for something that others cannot see, but that you believe there is much in that will benefit the whole (world).

In these papers that Irene sent me, I see that your grandmother is spoken of as Lydia Fitch Fairchild, which would show that she was married the second time. This record also says that she had three children. Were these children all by her first husband?

I will enclose a clipping from a paper which will show you what I have done with my invention, the dish washer. Although I have not made much money yet, I think I shall do very well as soon as they get started. I hope that sometime you may see one of them.

Do you still receive Our Best Wishes?

With kind and loving regards
For yourself and family,
I remain,
Your loving niece,
Josephine G. Cochran

Letter from Irene Ransom
To LESTER Madison Fitch 1847 - 1931

May 8, 1904
Cleveland, Ohio

My Dear Cousin Fitch,

Your very kind letter duly received, and I was very glad to get it, as it cleared up and made me fairly sure in regard to important points I had gathered at the time I wrote you. I wrote to several others in regard to our family history. I have in the past few months gathered some very interesting information in regard to the "Miller" branch of the family. I have been very successful in this direction. An old lady, 77 years old, has given me a good deal of history about many of the Miller family. Her father was brother to our grandmother. Our grandfather Miller's name was Isaac Miller, as his father's name was also Isaac. Our grandfather was born in Worcester, Mass. His father moved his family to Dummerston, Vermont, which town he was the means of settling. I have had access to a part of the history on the family written by our great grandfather, also to the history going back to a very early date in Scotland and England. They were a very scholarly family, lawyers, barristers, magistrates and men of letters. There are two coats of arms in the family, given for deeds of valor.

Our great grandfather Miller, along with his brothers, Joseph and William, were in the Revolutionary War. The history of himself and family corresponds perfectly with the history compiled by the State of Massachusetts, giving a detailed account of all soldiers and sailors of that state who took part in the American Revolution. These books are in the reference room of our Public Library, so you see it is correct. Now, I am going to trace as far as possible the history of the Fitch family.

I am very glad to get from you such reliable information in old letters and papers give about our great grandfather in regard to their given name. Mrs. Perigo (nee Miller), the old lady living in Chicago, wrote telling me that the given name of my grandmother was Parmelia and that my grandfather Fitch's name was Joseph. This was all she knew about the Fitches. I wrote the Treasurer of Geauga County for given names. He did not seem to find any Joseph Fitch, but said that his book showed that the "sixty acres" owned by Andrew J. Fitch was in the name of the heirs of John Fitch up to 1874. It was then transferred to Andrew J., and in 1875, Andrew J. transferred it to Mary O'Neal. Does your father's papers show that this land was owned by our grandfather, John Fitch? When this letter first came from Geauga, I thought I had been misinformed and that our grandfather" name must have been John instead of Joseph, but your letter again says his name was Joseph, and our great grandfather's name was John. If you have this in writing, it must be correct. There was a John Fitch in the Revolution and this I want to trace out if possible. Please let me know as soon as you can conveniently. If Uncle Lorenzo's papers show that his father or his grandfather owned this or any land in Thompson, Geauga County. I know the farm that Cousin Andrew owned, as I have been there, and as I understood it, he took the farm from his father, Watson Fitch, and that it was heavily mortgaged, that he paid this off and supported his sisters, his father and mother dying when the children were quite young. I know that my mother had three brothers, Watson, Cyrenus and Lorenzo Madison. Madison, William and Nahum are names belonging to the Miller branch, extending as far back as the Millers in Scotland. Did you know in what state or town John Fitch married Mary Scott? You say they married in 1782. I am very much interested in tracing back the Fitchs. There was a John Fitch who invented a steamboat, went to Paris, put his papers in the hands of our "Consul" who showed them to Robert Fulton, who soon after invented his steamboat, and got the credit for this wonderful invention, where by rights it belonged to John Fitch. He had one son, and I think the son's name was John. If you can throw any light as to whether said property in Thompson was owned by our great grandfather, I will be glad to have it. It may help me to trace him out. Watson Fitch may have been given one of his grandfather's names. I see it is J. W. Fitch. Andrew has a J. for an initial. His daughter who lives in this city may know what his second name is.

I am very glad to hear about your family and to know that you are all well. I thank you and your wife for your kind invitation to visit you, and should be very glad to do so, and someday, perhaps, I can. You are a great ways off it seems to me just now. I was always very glad I went to visit your father. I always think of him with much pleasure.

I will be very glad to hear from you whenever you can take time to write me. With a very kind remembrance to all.

I am very sincerely you cousin,
